If you told me the workflow and resource where the files should be placed, I will publish the "Set*" there.

Later I will Update this file on regular bases manually.

*Set:

A "Set" will always consist of a (some) PSD and fitting PNG for preview/communication purpose.

Hey Jens,

I'll inform you after I've set up the WebDAV server :)

Hey Jens,

I have set up the WebDAV server which you can use:

The hci team is now able to upload files via WebDAV on the following path:

Path: <https://files.typo3.org/hci> (note the https)

User: [typo3.org username]

Pass: [typo3.org password]

The files are readable for everybody under the URL <http://files.typo3.org/hci> (note the http)

All Members of the HCI Team can publish data there!

If you have any questions, let me know!

Greetings,
Sebastian

Thanks.

It's called "Design & Usability Team" :)
HCI is not so self explaining by it self.

Here in Phoenix we got called >> UI-UX Team
<http://forge.typo3.org/projects/typo3v5-ui>

Could you rename the folder to "uiux"
that fits better to the general topic :)

And add another Folder called "design", please.
There we could put the Logo and Font
and stuff like that. So it's not in the fileadmin of TYPO3.org anymore.

Does anyone know a good Mac App for
WebDAV services that works like DropBox?

I found a list: <http://alternativeto.net/software/dropbox/>
Did anyone try something or use something from that list?

Hey Jens,

*Could you rename the folder to "uiux"

Done!

*And add another Folder called "design", please.
There we could put the Logo and Font
and stuff like that. So it's not in the fileadmin of TYPO3.org anymore.*

Done!

So the URLs to log in are now as follows:

<https://files.typo3.org/uiux>

<https://files.typo3.org/design>

in both folders, everybody in the HCI team can change things.

*Douse anyone knows a good Mac App for
WebDAV services that works like DropBox?*

I don't but if you find any, let me know :-)

Greetings,
Sebastian
