Subject:	Render 2nd layer items in Sharebold

Description

It's okay to size up the font of the 2nd layer items but it needs to be rendered in Share bold + the entire background of the 2nd layer needs to be extended by 6 pixels when the size is being scaled up.

That menu is just plain HTML text, no graphics involved. So no chance for ShareBold. How important is that? It means we need to recode the menu to use GIFBUILDER and all...

I see - guess it's the mac's auto-antialising that fools me here.

Here on mac/FF3 second layer items look very bad and are not easy to read.

But if it launches today we'll have to wait and update later.

Can you make a sub template or similar so I can at least try to tweak the css on a hidden page - just for the second layer items?
