Did you see my comment at <https://review.typo3.org/#patch,sidebyside,1300,2,Classes/Object/Proxy/ProxyMethod.php> for buildMethodDocumentation()?

Previously one tag per value would be generated, now one tag that combines the values.

Yes, but the values array contains the values of one tag, e.g. @validate abc def ghi means that $values = array('abc', 'def', 'ghi');

Having multiple @validate annotations doesn't work in either case. To make this possible the ReflectionService API has to be changed...

I think the problem with the ProxyMethod was solved (generates multiple annotations again).

The methods for tags in the ReflectionService (e.g. getMethodTagsValues) return an array of tags with values as array. So multiple annotations are returned inside the value array. This is also tested in the ReflectionServiceTest with getMethodTagsValuesReturnsArrayOfTagsAndValuesOfAMethod.

Maybe it's the ValidatorResolver that cannot handle multiple tags?

- Target version changed from 1.0 beta 1 to 1.0 beta 2

we won't manage this for beta1 anymore, postponing

- Priority changed from Must have to Should have

As far as I understand it, the ReflectionService works correctly.

Without some steps to reproduce this problem, I'd like to close this issue.
