Description
After calling Route::matches(), Route::getMatchResults() must not contain objects. See #25801 for reasoning. Additionally we should enforce that Route::getMatchingUri() always returns a string.

[+TASK] Enforce RouteParts to only return simple types

Requests should never contain objects (see #25801 for details).

Consequently the Router should not deal with objects either.

This is enforced by checking the result of RoutePart::resolves() and RoutePart::matches().
