Subject:	Unique-Constraint Errors are not handled by an ExtDirect Request
Description

Though it is possible to add unique-constraints to a table with the doctrine 2 ORM (and that works really fine), errors thrown when trying to add duplicate values to a unique-constraint property are not handled by an ExtDirect Request. (Such transactions give back "Succes: true").

Any errors of the doctrine 2 ORM should at least throw a "Success: false" in an ExtDirect-Request.
