Subject:	Inconsistent configuration overrides for packages

Description

If one package overrides configuration of another package the result is not deterministic right now. The order of the loaded packages (from scanning the package paths, not the PackageStates.php) determines the order of the configuration.

We need to find a solution for this problem to always have a reliable and deterministic configuration.

[BUGFIX] Package loading must be ordered by dependencies

In order to ensure proper merging of configurations packages most be loaded ordered by dependencies.

This should be handled by ordering PackageStates accordingly.
