Subject:	URIs should be lower case by default
Description
Currently you can force generated URIs to be lower cased by adding "toLowerCase" to the Route configuration. This should be the default though. The configuration option could be renamed to "keepCase" (This works for the whole route and for individual RouteParts)

[!!!][TASK] Create lower cased URIs by default

The routing framework is capable of creating case sensitive URIs so it is possible to resolve different actions depending on the case of URI segments.

This changes the behavior to convert URIs to lower case by default as that is the most common requirement.

If you want to keep the case, you can achieve that by setting toLowerCase to FALSE. This can be done for the whole route or for specific Route Parts:

name: 'Case sensitive Route'
uriPattern: 'posts/{post}/{category}'
defaults:
  '@package': 'TYPO3.Blog'
  '@controller': 'Post'
  '@action': 'index'
  '@format': 'html'
toLowerCase: false

```
name: 'Case sensitive Route Part' uriPattern: 'posts/{post}/{category}'
defaults:
  '@package': 'TYPO3.Blog'
  '@controller': 'Post'
  '@action': 'index'
  '@format': 'html'

routeParts:
toLowerCase: false

Note: This is a breaking change in the sense that dynamic route parts are now resolved to a lower cased string by default.
