Subject:	Update session cookie lifetime on activity

Description

The lifetime of a session cookie (TYPO3\FLOW3\Session\PhpSession) is fixed.
After the time specified (default 1 hour) the cookie gets deleted, no matter how long ago the last activity of the user was.

The cookie's expiration date should be updated on every request.

This would, for example, prevent a session expiration while filling out a form..

[FEATURE] Automatic session expiration on user inactivity

This feature lets sessions expire automatically after a certain time of user inactivity. The actual timeout can be specified through a new setting called "inactivityTimeout".

This patch also sets the default cookie lifetime to infinite, as expiration can be better controlled through the new timeout feature.
