Subject:	select.pidInList = 0 won't select records with pid = 0
Description
Following Typoscript: <pre>10 = CONTENT 10 {     table = static_countries     select {         pidInList = 0         orderBy = cn_short_en     }     renderObj {         field = cn_short_en     } }</pre> It won't get any records because of this code (pidInList will be unset): <pre>if (!$conf[$property]) {     unset($conf[$property]); }</pre> Maybe we can change it to: <pre>if (!$conf[$property] &amp;&amp; $conf[$property] != 0) {     unset($conf[$property]); }</pre> Don't know if this is the right solution or has any side effects though.

- File 32212.diff added

Attached my described change in typo3_src/typo3/sysext/cms/tslib/class.tslib_content.php

I'm new to bug reports. Hope the diff file is set up correctly.

hm, of course !== 0 ;)

edit: a bit too hasty. The problem lies in function stdWrap.
Maybe we could save the initial value of $conf[$property] and compare later on (before unset) if it has been 0.

- Status changed from New to Resolved

Resolved with the same fix already merged in #32374.
