Subject:	Add Getter for validator options and child validators
Description
Validation options are set through the constructor but there is currently no way of accessing the options afterwards. This would make sense in order to transform validation rules into another format (e.g. to apply them on the client side). Similar issue for the CompositeValidators: There is currently no way to retrieve the child validators.

[FEATURE] Add Getter for validator options and child validators

Validation options are set through the constructor but there is currently no way of accessing the options afterwards.

This change introduces the respective getters.
