[BUGFIX] Makes account expiry work as expected

The expiry if an account was checked in a way that left an account enabled until after it's last day. Now it will expire exactly when it should.

After some investigation I found out that this feature works actually, but only on day basis.
I would assumed that it would work also on Minute basis.

The query defined in AccountRepository.php just checks on day basis:
$query->greaterThan('expirationDate', new \DateTime('today'))

but I would assume this check:

$query->greaterThan('expirationDate', new \DateTime())
