[FEATURE] Implement file based encrypted key authentication

This commit introduce a new password token, which works like the username password token but only requires a password.

The file based simple key provider authenticates a password token using the file based simple key service to get the matching password in the key which is configurable for every instance of the provider. Furthermore the service is capable of storing, removing, getting, checking and generating keys. Optional values for generation key length and password hashing strategy is configurable for the service.
