Revision 003ff66c - 2013-06-21 23:13 - Christian Kuhn

[TASK] Remove last bit of multiplyDBfieldSize handling multiplyDBfieldSize was used in the past to extend the size of database fields to cope with UTF8 content if the database did not support it. The setting was deprecated for a long time already and removed from DefaultConfiguration with version 6.0. The patch removes still existing handler code from ext:install. The setting is also removed from LocalConfiguration if found.
