Subject:	Image title should be settable via form field
Description	At them moment it is not possible to set the image title via form field, since the typeConverter handles nothing but the ressource property (not sure if that's the reason, just guessing)

[BUGFIX] Fix Image TypeConverter

The Image TypeConverter now takes care about a given `title` property and takes it into account for the mapping; additionally the handling of mapping persisted Images (i.e. sources with an `__identity` property) works as it used to be for persisted entities.

This is covered by some additional Functional Tests, which have, besides, been augmented a bit and refactored to an abstract functional test case for reusable methods.
