Subject:	Form.Textfield ViewHelper's placeholder attribute should be (re)moved
Description
currently, the placeholder attribute in the Textfield ViewHelper is explicitly enabled: code class="php"> public function render($required = NULL, $type = 'text', $placeholder = NULL) { // [...] if ($placeholder !== NULL) { $this->tag->addAttribute('placeholder', $placeholder); } }
For consistency, this part should either be completely removed and settable via <code>additionalArguments</code> or, alternatively, set as <code>registerTagAttribute()</code> in <code>initializeArguments()</code> . Of course we need to handle deprecation accordingly.
If you neither agree, than this should at least be reproduced in the textarea ViewHelper.

[!!!][TASK] Clean up placeholder on textfield and text area VHs

The form.textfield VH had a placeholder attribute as argument to the `render()` method; the form.textarea VH did not support placeholder at all.

With this change the placeholder is available on both VHs but registered as tag attribute.

If you extended `TextfieldViewHelper::render()` make sure to remove the `$placeholder` argument, otherwise you will see Argument "placeholder" has already been defined, thus it should not be defined again.
