Task # 38086 (Closed): Enhance TYPO3 bootstrap mechanism

TYPO3 Version:	6.0
PHP Version:	5.4

Sprint Focus:
Subject:	Bootstrap must check if submodules exist
Description
If you just clone the git repository and forget to use the --recursive parameter or to run git submodule, then you will get an error that tx_extbase_utility_extension can not be found.
This is misleading and the Install Tool should check if the system extensions are present.
It should just check for the presence of the ext_localconf.php files.

Actually the install tool is too late to check for this. This must be check at bootstrap before extension ext_localconf.php files are read.

Please change subject to Bootstrap must check if submodules exist

The should be set back to new, as I abandoned the change for now (see discussion on gerrit).

Lets see what further refactoring brings and try to find a better place later.

We do not have submodules anymore in the core.. Extbase and Fluid are now required extension of the core.
