Sprint Focus:
Subject:	Modernize Content Elements

Description

Hi,

lets start to "modernize" Content Elements!
Removing old fashioned once and move others from spacial to typical page content.

The Install-Wizard of version 6.0 should handle the upgrade path and parse the old content elements like "Bulletpoint" or the
"Table" to standard RTE Text content types.

We should also adapt to modern content usage on todays websites and accept that a video isn't special content anymore. So this should be placed in the typical section.

Who could / like to do that?

Greez Jens

I'd simply make them all have the same background color...

#5 - 2012-07-08 14:43 - Martin Wiederkehr

Sorry, but in my point of view, removing the table content element is a really bad idea Why?
   - A lot of our customers copy paste csv data into the table element as there are no styling issues
   - As a poweruser, I love the simplicity and the full control over my content within the table element
Solution
   - Don't remove the content element, but move it to a more inconspicuous place

#6 - 2012-07-09 13:53 - Jens Hoffmann
- File New-Icon-Media-CE.gif added

Could be a by default disabled extension for old-fashion guys, who dislike RTEs Power in terms of Tables. There you could to for your CSV approach. Currently I aim to have a copy/paste direct from Excel to RTE without the CSV geek mode. :) We aim for the 90%, not the 10% of power user - when we talk about a new default solution.

Here is the new Icon for the Media-CE:

Remark: Also the icons from the "Add content element" wizard and after that within page module differ.
New issue?

Yep a new Issue, please.

But, good point! :)

#9 - 2012-07-16 11:55 - Jens Hoffmann

Beside the "Text /w Img"-Icon, I think this fits quite well.

What about the content elements?

There is a patch pending to merge the content elements.

#12 - 2013-03-08 12:23 - Jens Hoffmann

But (if I get this right in the 2 issues) the icons are still inconsistent, right?
