Description	the current TypoScript object names are much too cumbersome to work with; and are not intuitive at all. We should rename them to something short and easy to use. Example: FluidRenderer -&gt; Fluid (or FluidTemplate) TypoScriptArrayRenderer -&gt; Array CollectionRenderer -&gt; Collection Case -&gt; Case

[!!!][TASK] Simplify and streamline TypoScript object names

This patch renames all TypoScript object implementations (previously called "Renderers") to FooImplementation and their TypoScript prototypes to just Foo. That way, only a short, catchy name needs to be used in TypoScript templates.

The TypoScript prototypes have been renamed as follows:

TypoScriptArrayRenderer -> Array
CollectionRenderer -> Collection
FluidRenderer -> Template

The PHP class names of the TypoScript object implementations have been renamed as follows:

AbstractTsObject -> AbstractTypoScriptObject
TypoScriptArrayRenderer -> ArrayImplementation
CaseTsObject -> CasImplementation
CollectionRenderer -> CollectionImplementation
Matcher -> MatcherImplementation
FluidRenderer -> TemplateImplementation

Unless you have used the actual PHP class names in your own TypoScript prototype definitions, you only need to adjust your TypoScript code to use the new TypoScript object names (first list).
