Subject:	Custom TCEforms validator from saltedpasswords is broken since namespace switch

Description

saltedpasswords registers an eval function. Eval functions are included with the registered name as function name in JS.
If the registered class is a namespaced class name the resulting name of the js function includes \\ which breaks tceforms.

Fix saltedpasswords registration to use classic classname.

[BUGFIX] Editing *_users with saltedpasswords active fails

Since the namespace changes, the custom form-fieldevaluators for passwords shipped by saltedpasswords are registered using the namespaced classes.

As the registered class name is used by tceForms to build an internal JS function, the JS is broken due to the fact that backslashes are not allowed in JS function names.

This patch reverts back to "classic" classnames as eval
identifier.
