Subject:	The title of a page node should be required in the inspector panel
Description
It is now possible to empty the title field, and publish te page. This leads to weird behavior (automatic redirect to the backend if you click on a page link to such a page while browsing the website). Making the title required would prevent that issue, and it's required anyway (although it might still make sense to have a look at the redirect)
