History

#1 - 2012-11-22 09:55 - André Haehnel

- Assigned To set to André Haehnel

#2 - 2012-12-01 19:51 - Andreas Wolf

- Status changed from New to Needs Feedback
- Assigned To deleted (André Haehnel)

Thanks for the report, but I can't really locate the error - could you elaborate your description a bit more? What did you do, what was the expected result, what did you get instead? And a description of your environment would also help.

Deleted files unfortunately are still shown in the file list (but flagged inside db). They are not physically deleted.

<https://review.typo3.org/#/c/16403/> fixes the missing delete-button and setting the deleted flag. but files are not deleted, either in the file list or detail view.

#4 - 2013-01-04 13:09 - Christian Weiske

Steps to reproduce:

1. TYPO3 backend > File > Filelist
2. Upload file
3. File is shown in file list
4. Edit file
5. Delete file
6. File is still shown in file list

Related to bug #42294.

Part 1 of the problem is obtaining the information if the file is deleted or not. This is not directly available in TYPO\CMS\Core\Resource\File, but only in the index record.

Loading the index record is only possible by calling `isIndexed()`, since `loadIndexRecord()` is protected. Then, the `deleted` property is available.

Cannot reproduce when using the context menu to delete the file.

Related to bug #42294.

If you use the delete button to delete the file which is implemented in this change, then this change is obviously wrong and should be fixed there.

Sorry that I was unclear. I deleted it via "edit meta data" (edit icon) and then the delete icon. This set the record to "deleted".

So this is the problem we're trying to address here:

sys_file records that have the deleted field set to 1 are shown in the file list

The "delete" entry of the context menu actually removes the file, but keeps the record in sys_file as it is - it does not even set the record to "deleted", nor does it delete the record. This is wrong, too - IMO.

I think we need to wait for a resolution to the "how to delete a file" discussion in <http://review.typo3.org/16403> until we can continue here.

Helmut, Philipp Gampe thinks that records marked as deleted is something that needs to be supported - see <http://lists.typo3.org/pipermail/typo3-dev/2013-January/046148.html>

So in his eyes, this patch is actually useful. Could you please review it?

Just a quick note, maybe this is implemented already and I'm stepping in the wrong direction, but as I read about "automatic backups" and "no gos" for instant deletion in reviews and mailing lists: please keep in mind that editors should be able to remove a file and all its relations instantly in case they are required to do so (e.g. due to an adhortatory letter, because of illegal usage of images).
