Subject:	Link generation in functional tests should behave like Apache with mod_rewrite
Description	Currently links generated in functional tests include "index.php" as the FLOW_REWRITEURLS environment variable is not present (usually set in .htaccess if mod_rewrite is available). By adding this environment variable in FunctionalTests.xml the tests would behave like most people would link building to work.

[TASK] Adjust tests to rewritten URLs in functional tests

The resolution for #44434 makes Flow behave as if mod_rewrite was available during functional tests. Some tests checking against generated URLs need to be adjusted, so they no longer expect it to produce links with embedded "index.php".
