| Subject:  | add required child nodes to Node Types |                     |                   |
| Description   |  |                     |                   |
| required child-nodes cannot be deleted. Req. child nodes are defined in the schema:  |  |                     |                   |
| MyNodeType:  |  |                     |                   |
| childNodes:  |  |                     |                   |
| foo:   |  |                     |                   |
| autoCreated: false (true is the default; might need to implement this at some point) |  |                     |                   |
| required/mandatory: true # TODO implement  |  |                     |                   |
| Doesn't have high priority though; we thought about this in #44955                   |  |                     |                   |
