[BUGFIX] Constants use in YAML Configuration maintains type

If a constant expression in the YAML configuration is used, for example `foo: '%PHP_VERSION_ID%'`, and the value exclusively represents this constant (i.e. no additional string concatenation like `path: '%FLOW_PATH_DATA%Logs/Exception%'`), the value is substituted directly in order to maintain the initial type of the constant.

Prior to this, a `str_replace` was done which resulted in a string in every case no matter if the constant was meant to be an integer, for example.
