Description
Headline and copytext
Headline: Built on a robust foundation
Copy: Being built upon the most advanced PHP framework to date - TYPO3 Flow - makes your websites ready for whatever the future holds for you. TYPO3 Flow is secure by default, keeping your developers focussed on their main task - building your application - without having to worry about low level implementations. The "code once - run everywhere" approach of TYPO3 Flow makes the move from the application to the website very simple. Whether you start with your website and build the applications from there or you have your application and need content management added to it - TYPO3 Neos and TYPO3 Flow have your back.
Idea and Reasoning
Focus on Flow, next generation Framework stuff and so on

Could it be street photo of a green light instead of the cut-out stock thing?

The green light works well as the concept, I think.

Hello Rasmus,

regarding the traffic light to show in environment: The concept also was to switch between full size Images and clean backgrounds. You can see a full range PDF file in Task #48402. If you dont like it at all we could chance it for sure but we would prefer to do so.

Best regards

Claas
