Subject:	Dynamic locale detection / determination

Description

This provides a way of detecting an appropriate Locale to use for each request. Shipped with Flow are two DetectionStrategies, Cookie and HttpAcceptHeader, which will try to determine a Locale from these sources.
The Cookie's default name is assumed locale, but can be set to a different one via Object.yaml.

If a DetectionStrategy can not reliably determine a Locale, it returns NULL in order to abstain, and the next Strategy in the configured chain is evaluated.
If eventually none matches, no concrete ``currentLocale`` will be set, hence falling back to the ``defaultLocale``.

Setting a Locale chain would look like::
    1   TYPO3:
    2   Flow:
    3   i18n:
    4   detectionChain: ['Cookie', 'AcceptLanguageHeader']

The array values can also be set to a full qualified class name which must implement \TYPO3\Flow\I18n\Detection\DetectionStrategyInterface.
