[TASK] Enable mock of ResourceFactory in ContentObjectRenderer

ext:frontend ContentObjectRenderer calls ResourceFactory::getInstance at various places. This static call can not be mocked and is a hard dependency to FAL.

The patch encapsulates the static call in a method and uses this to mock instances of the ResourceFactory within some tests to have controlled return values.

As a side effect one test does not fail anymore if only the ext:frontend tests are executed and not the whole test suite. The according hook-test was renamed and now tests the method that calls the hook directly.
