Subject:	Markup is lost upon publishing
Description
Reproduce: Add a new text element to your site and create a table within. Fill it with data and publish it: all <table> markup is gone.
This is also happens if you try to align text.

I think this is because Aloha is filtering all but a select set of tags, and the table tags are not included in the list.

Probably, we should add table,tt,td,th,etc to the list of permitted tags.

We shouldn't however, turn off the filtering, or we'll get to deal with Microsoft Word crap tags.

But as there is a "Create table" menu this has to work.

Is there any configuration for the tag filter?

Works now with version 1.0
