Subject:	In-place commenting for groupwork
Description
One of the most common things in editing and translating process we do is the editor - owner communication, discussion over the pieces of text, image etc in the article, on page and so on. In place commenting would become very handy feature. Something similar to GoogleDrive maybe. Just by selecting the text and adding comment and notifying the users who need to see the comment.
