[TASK] Remove not maintainable test

ext:backend test getNodesSetsIsMountPointField() works on getNode() of PageTree DataProvider. The method has tons of dependencies that are sometimes even static, and the method is recursive. It is very hard to test properly and the current test is still not mocking completly. The test is removed for now since it does not give us much benefit and is hard to maintain in current state, the subject method should be covered by tests again if it was refactored.
