Subject:	List mode doesn't show relation number, but tries to get record title from related table
Description
Hi, This issue is a regression, caused by fix of http://forge.typo3.org/issues/52133 Whenever an editor has detailed view of a table in "List" mode and selects columns, that are of type "inline" in TCA, he expects to see number of relations, like it was always before (or, at best - titles of each relation, but this was never implemented), but after fix of #52113 he sees title of record from related table. The probelm is in fact, that "inline" fields store number of relations (e.g. 6), and that fix fetches record from related table by uid (which will be 6). As result, editor sees either [6!] or title of record with uid=6 instead of number of relations. I'm not sure, if it is really regression or it is a bug of BackendUtility::getProcessedValue(), but it exists. TYPO3 6.1.7 and below work correctly, 6.1.8 and above - have this bug. Not sure about TYPO3 CMS 6.2 though...

The fix of #52133 is incomplete.

To handle TCA type inline, some more lines of code are needed.

Please see Ticket #22970 - Patch is submitted to Gerrit since 9 month

Hi,

Is this still an issue in newer versions of TYPO3 CMS (6.2.9)?

If yes, can you provide a newer patch against master by using Gerrit? <http://wiki.typo3.org/CWT>
