As far as i know this should be mapped into an array holding mapped nodes, right?

@param array<\TYPO3\TYPO3CR\Domain\Model\NodeInterface> $nodes

Packages/Application/TYPO3.Neos/Classes/TYPO3/Neos/Service/Controller/WorkspaceController.php:98

But its holding an array with the contextPath.

Tried to use

@param ArrayCollection<\TYPO3\TYPO3CR\Domain\Model\NodeInterface> $nodes

With this the publishing works.

Problem is, that the \TYPO3\TYPO3CR\Service\PublishingServiceInterface::publishNodes expects an array and not a collection.

Its annotated as @api wich means, changing this will be a breaking change, i think.

So what should i do? Patching all the interface stuff to collection or changing the array converter to reflect the target type of <\TYPO3\TYPO3CR\Domain\Model\NodeInterface>?

We have to check if this only occurs if content dimensions are enabled, I could not yet reproduce it with the default demo site (without content dimensions). Will try to do that soon.

happens to me also on demo site.
