| Description  |  |                     |              |
| The "protocol" we're currently using for retrieving static resources is "package://" - however, that doesn't fit completely. Now that we also want to use the stream wrapper for accessing package-independent persistent resources, we should use the scheme "resource://" instead. |  |                     |              |
