Has patch:
Subject:	remove not needed argument from renderPartial
Description
hey, in Classes/View/TemplateView.php renderPartial() the second argument $sectionToRender is required (no default value) but it is not used in the method ... it clearly will be a breaking change if we remove that, but propably it's not too late right now ;) or is this variable intended to be used later? regards, foertel ps: while checkin v5 i see that the TemaplateView looks different there. Is this intended or just un-backported refactoring?

That's not-yet-backported refactoring.
However, renderPartial is no public API, so I think it's no problem if we change this.

- Status changed from New to Resolved

In the meantime this feature has been backported. The renderPartial() method has been moved to the AbstractTemplateView.
